

ADDITIONAL ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Applicants for Master of Science (Counselling) should pass an interview and/or a psychology test.

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

(A) Coursework

The Master of Science (Counselling) is a 52 credit hour programme which comprise of the following structure:

RESEARCH METHODS AND APPLIED STATISTIC COMPONENT (7 CREDIT HOURS)

SSMQ 5033	Applied Statistics and Computer Application
SZRZ 6014	Research Methodology

THEORY OF COUNSELLING, PSYCHOTHERAPY, PERSONALITY AND CAREER (30 CREDITS)

SSKC 5113	Theory and Practice of Individual Counselling
SSKC 5123	Theory and Practice of Group Counselling
SSKC 5133	Theory and Practice of Family and Marriage Counselling
SSKC 5213	Applied Career Counselling
SSKC 5223	Contemporary Career Seminar
SSKC 5303	Counselling Ethics and Counselor Act 1998 (Act 580)
SSYM 5223	The Psychology of the Adolescence and the Adult
SSYP 5113	Psychological Testing and Assessment
SSYP 5313	Theories of Personality and Psychotherapy
SSYS 5313	Applied Social Psychology

RESEARCH PROJECT (6 CREDIT HOURS)

SSKZ 6996	Project Paper
-----------	---------------

PRACTICUM AND INTERNSHIP (9 CREDIT HOURS)

SSKX 5983	Counselling Practicum
SSKX 5996	Internship

(B) Research

Students are required to:

- i. Present and defend proposed research to a committee;
- ii. Present progress reports of research work at colloquiums arranged by the Graduate School or College;
- iii. Attend a viva session to defend the thesis; and
- iv. Submit a final thesis.

Students without sufficient research skills and knowledge are required to attend and pass the following courses with at least a B grade before being allowed to defend their proposal (i.e. within the first two semesters of their enrollment):

- i. SZRZ 6014 Research Methodology;
- ii. SCLE 6014 Academic Writing; and/or
- iii. Any other course as determined by the supervisor or Academic Committee.